SIGNIFICANT EVENTS / ACTIVITY

Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

Situational Summary: (No Change)

- Strong winter storms hit California beginning Wednesday 2/26/14 through Sunday 3/2/14 bringing heavy rain and snow across the state. Both Northern and Southern California received significant rain, and the Sierra Nevada's gained substantial snowpack. Northern California continues to experience showers throughout the week. Even with this significant precipitation, the state continues to be in a severe drought. Reservoir levels remain low despite these recent storms. The drought could result in severe impacts to municipal water supplies, wells, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities for several months. The State Operations Center (SOC) continues to be activated to monitor the situation statewide, and support regional and local operational areas.
- The Drought Task Force leaders traveled to Merced for another of its local meetings on Tuesday, 3/4/14. The Taskforce continues to meet weekly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.
- Sixteen counties and four Native American tribes have proclaimed a local state of emergency as a result of the drought. The California Public Utilities Commission regulates all for-profit water utilities in the state and has ordered private water utilities to implement 20% voluntary water use reductions.
- The recent snowpack survey conducted on 2/27/14, recorded California snowpack at 24% of normal. A more recent update using automated devices after the recent storm (March 6) shows snowpack at 33% of normal.
- DWR has announced that water essential for health and safety will be delivered through the state water project in spite of the zero allocation policy. Deliveries will be boosted if storms produce enough rain and snow to increase reservoir storage and the snow pack.

- On March 4th and 5th the Groundwater Resources Association of California held a conference at McClellan Park in Sacramento to discuss groundwater issues and water management and strategies addressing challenges of Sustainability and Drought in California. It was organized in cooperation with The U.S. Society for Irrigation and Drainage Professionals (USCID)
- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.

Current Conditions:

- Despite two large storms over the past three weeks, heavy rain and snow would have to fall throughout California very frequently from now until May to reach average annual rain and snowfall levels.
- Now more than two-thirds of the way through the rainy season, many areas in the northern part of the state are at least 15 inches short of average annual precipitation. So it would take more than a half an inch of rain from Redding to Fresno every other day until May to get back to average precipitation in the watersheds that supply most of California's drinking and irrigation water. Even with such precipitation, California would remain in drought conditions, due to low water supplies in reservoirs from the two previous dry years.
- A moderate amount of rain has occurred across California for much of February and into early March. Many areas have received normal to above-normal amounts of precipitation for this time period. However, when viewed across the time scale of the water year (e.g., since October 1, 2013), much of California has received only about 50% of normal precipitation for that time period. Further, snowpack across the Sierra is only about 30% of normal for this time of year. Additionally, water supply forecasts continue to be much below normal for the April-July time period.

Current Drought Updates:

- 2014 Drought Response Report will be updated again on 03/10/14 unless the situation warrants.
